Despite the fact that he was working remotely, Álvaro has always shown great discipline and efficiency, being able to work on all our websites (ten websites, as of today) and solve satisfactorily every task that was required from him. All our websites are updated and in optimal shape. I would like to highlight his ability to organize work and get things done quickly. He has demonstrated high adaptation capacity and a great drive to improve his work, to the point that our websites have a speed score of 100 or close to it.

In short, Álvaro has been the best Web Developer that we ever had and I am glad to recommend his services as a way to show gratitude for his good work.

Sincerely yours,

Cesar Iquino
